BASKETBALL TOURNEY STARTS APRIL FIRST

Eight Teams to be Represented in State Meet at Appleton—Three Day Event.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
The following teams have been selected to represent the various districts in the state basketball tournament to be held at Appleton, Wis., April 1, 2 and 3, under the auspices of the Lawrence League. The appointment of representatives to the tournament from the four districts is as follows: Northwestern, two teams; southeastern, two teams; southwestern, one team. The northeastern district has an organization of some years' standing whose members are eligible to teams which are accepted by the committee. In the absence of such an organization in the other districts the decision of the committee at Lawrence will govern in the matter of elimination games.

The committee consists of Dr. C. R. Anderson of Lawrence, Ellis Chapman, director of athletics at Lawrence, and John Canham of Neenah, representative of schools of the state. Dr. Schroeder of Chicago will probably referee again.

Eight teams will be in the tournament. There will be two games on the afternoon of April 1 and two games in the evening of April 2 and 3. To avoid the trouble which existed last year elimination games will be played in all districts but the northwestern.

State Situation.
The Wisconsin situation, following last week's games, presents a change in the strength of many teams, while many of the supposedly strong teams are hardly considered in the sections. Baraboo is perhaps the strongest five in the central section to date. Madison highs losing to them in a week ago. Appleton safely entering the tourney according to critics. La Crosse, in the southwestern section, look like champs. Beloit are making a fight for the title in the northwestern. Janesville will furnish good opposition for any team she might meet. Evansville is feared, as is the Madison university high school quint. Following are the scores of games in the state last week:

Racine, 39; Watonsa Aggies, 25. Baraboo, 37; Reedsburg, 15. Appleton, 36; West Green, Bay, 30. La Crosse, 31; Beloit, 20. Fond du Lac, 48; Plymouth, 18. Madison, 29; Richland Center, 30. Beloit, 36; Rockford, 24. Eau Claire, 19; Neillsville, 15. Wisconsin, 31; Stevens Point Normal, 43.

LAKOTA CARDINALS VERSUS BELVIDERE

Janesville Team Will Open Season at Auditorium on Saturday Evening Against Illinois Champs.

The Lakota Cardinals basketball team are primed for their first battle with the champions of the local auditorium on Saturday night with the Belvidere Alumni, a team laying claim to the Illinois state title.

Manager George Caldwell of the Lakota Cardinals has been a busy man since the team was organized a year ago. He has had to deal with the old Lakota five that had their own against teams of national prominence. He has arranged a schedule of games with some of the best teams in this section of the country. Conny Eder will be met later in the season on the local floor. Eder, says, if satisfactory arrangements can be made.

With the exception of Falter, captain of the 1913 high school state champions, the team that will oppose Belvidere on Saturday night in this city will be the champion five that carried off the laurels at the Appleton meet a year before last. Hemming will be at center, Atwood and Dalton at forwards and Eder at the point.

Belvidere alumni comprise players who formerly played with the school five of that city. Like the Lakotas they held the Illinois state title in 1913, and are coming to Janesville strengthened by the addition of "Soup" Murphy to their team. Murphy, formerly captain and forward of the Janesville high school, is well known in this city and around Beloit. He was started by the college team. The outlook for a great game on Saturday night is exceedingly bright with so many old stars in the lineup. One week from Saturday the Lakotas will play the Lake Mills team at the auditorium. Lake Mills have played seven games and won them all this year.

ANOTHER DEDICATION PLANNED BY EBBETS

Move of Bringing "Wild Bill" Donovan Promises to be Popular One With Gotham Fans.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
New York, Jan. 18.—You guessed it, Charley Ebbets is going to spring another "dedication day"—and spring it early. Before the spring robins are properly thawed out and before the baseball bugs get acclimated to base on the subject of baseball, Mr. Ebbets will hit 'em with a "Bill Donovan" day.

The Yanks had scarcely ceased ticking the news that Bill was to manage the New York Yankees when Ebbets began singing songs of praise for Donovan. The fact that the same "Wild Bill" once lopped from Ebbets' club to the Detroit Tigers in the old baseball war was forgotten by the Dodger proxy and he turned loose a galaxy of pleasing adjectives to voice his sentiments.

"Likeable fellow," said Ebbets. "Great personality. That wide smile and good nature gets the fans and players alike."

All this having been dutifully endorsed by careful scribes, Ebbets followed to the business of the meeting. "That reminds me," said he. "The Dodgers play a couple of exhibition games with the Yanks next April before the season opens. Why not a holiday. Why not? We'll have it. We'll call it 'Bill Donovan Day' and have the usual festivities. The Ebbets and the move that brought Donovan will march and there'll be a big crowd."

Passing up Charley Ebbets and his dedication days, it seems to be a sure bet that the move that brought Donovan to the Yankees was a popular one. They may be singing a different tune about July 4 but "Wild Bill" goes to town with the best wishes of the fans. The feeling runs too that with Caldwell back on the hurling corps, Donovan may turn out a team that will hum it way into the first division.

STOUT WILL REFEREE BIG MILWAUKEE BOUT

"Silk Shirt Harry" Agreed Upon As Third Man in Ring for Clabby-Gibbons Match Thursday.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Milwaukee, Wis., Jan. 18.—With the selection of Harry Stout as referee all preliminary details have been completed for the middleweight championship match between Jimmy Clabby and Mike Gibbons at the Milwaukee Auditorium next Thursday night. Stout is a capable official. He has handled the majority of the big matches staged in Milwaukee in the last three years. He and Gibbons are natives of the same town. Both are the Terry McGovern style of fighters and their bout should prove a thriller.

The match between Joe Welling of Chicago and Battling Terry of New Castle, Pennsylvania, promises to develop some interesting scrapping. Welling is one of the most promising of the newer crop of lightweights. He recently returned from Australia, where he engaged in three contests. Hughey Mehegan shaded him on points in twenty rounds. Sapper O'Neill, the British star, was whipped in twenty rounds on June 12, but a month later O'Neill succeeded in getting a draw with Welling in a return match. Welling's style made a hit with the Antipodeans and he is in demand for a return visit there. Battling Terry has whipped such good boys as Hal Stewart, Patsy Drouillard, Paul Sikora, Billy Wagner and Ray Parks. Young Ertle, the St. Paul sensation, meets Young Herzog of Oshkosh in the semi-main event. Both are the Terry McGovern style of fighters and their bout should prove a thriller.

Down went 658 pins in three games last evening in the opening night of Miller's big tournament, when Lee, round house employee, and a crack bowler, got this mark in the singles after fever heat rolling.

Lee was not billed to roll last night, but at a late hour entered his name and journeyed to the alters. The result of his efforts are scores of 167, 232, and 170, making up the total of 569. Abraham was second with 536. The scores for last evening's bowling in the singles are as follows:

William Quinn	211	150	138	499
F. Grove	166	150	184	500
G. Abraham	195	195	146	536
P. Weckworth	133	147	175	455
Lee	167	232	170	569
Neave	91	99	126	316
Scannan	125	129	161	415

Tonight Abraham and J. Rattery and Yahn and Hoveland are entered in double matches.

BADGERS WIN FOURTH GAME; TRIM INDIANA

Hoosiers Are Easy in Walkaway Contest—Score is 47 to 15—Levis and Flodden are Stars.

Coach Menzies' basketball players of Wisconsin university are another game nearer the conference championship. At Madison last night, the Hoosiers took a 47 to 15 defeat at the hands of the Badgers, in a contest that was one-sided. Levis and Flodden started, the former scoring seven and the latter six field goals. A flying start by the varsity quint enabled them to get a big lead on Indiana, which they held all through the game.

The lineup:
Badgers—Napielenski, 1. f.; Levis, 1. f.; Capt. Lange, c.; Smith, 1. g.; Olson, r. g.
Hoosiers—Porter, 1. f.; Frenzel, 1. f.; Nash, c.; Whitaker, 1. g.; Buschman, r. g.

Substitutions: Wisconsin—Brown for Napielenski; Flodden for Lange; Anderson for Levis; Dale for Buschman.
Field goals—Levis, 7; Flodden, 6; Lange, 4; Olson, 2; Anderson, 1; Brown, 1; Dale, 2; Porter, 2; Buschman, 2; Frenzel, 2.
Free throws—Levis, 3; Olson, 2; Porter, 1.
Referee—Diddle of Wabash.
Umpire—Davis of Milwaukee.

PAY OF FRENCH AIRMEN INCREASED DURING WAR.

(Correspondence of The A. P.)
Boulogne, Jan. 18.—The pay of French aviators, which heretofore has been the same as that of soldiers of similar rank in other branches of the service, has been substantially increased, or the duration of the war. Qualified pilots of the rank of non-commissioned officers will now receive 80 cents a day, while corporals and privates will get 40 cents. Apprentice pilots, of whom large numbers have been recruited, are allowed half pay of qualified men.

GET ON NERVES FIRST; VICTORY IS EASY THEN, SAYS PACKEY McFARLAND

"Get on the nerves of your opponent," was an axiom of Kid McCoy in his fighting days. The Kid was cute and counted much of his success to his brains.

Following McCoy, however, has not hogged the limelight in this stunt, as developed the other day. Packey McFarland is the one who shares the honors.

A New York promoter told the story and vouched for its truth. Packey once worked the art on the redoubtable Leach Cross. The pair were in a downtown newspaper office being weighed in for a fight at the Fairmont. A. C. Cross got on the scales and the beam didn't move. As Leach backed off the scales Packey purposely got in his way and as a consequence they bumped into each other.

"What do you mean by shoving me?" yelled Packey with a furious frown.

"I didn't mean to shove you, Packey," said Leach, thoroughly frightened.

"You did and you did it on purpose," growled Packey.

"You're mistaken," said Leach, meekly.

"How dare you contradict me?" roared Packey. "Take that," and Leach was sent spinning against the wall from the force of a left hook that caught him full on the chin.

That took Leach so frightened was the east elder, Packey actually chased Leach so frightened was the east elder, Packey laughingly admitted afterward that the scale incident had been put on for the sole purpose of getting Cross' nerve.

Sport Snap Shots

MORRIS MILLER

Bill Hinchman left the American league in the fall of 1909 with a batting average of .258 and the almost unanimous vote of being sent to the minors. Now the papers state Bill is coming back to the majors, coming back to Pittsburgh and toiling along with 308 marks at bat. And it will not be at all surprising if the one-time Nap proves a fixture in Fred Clarke's outfield next season. Hinchman isn't a neophyte at the come back business. He was a come back when Cleveland got him, having had previous experience with the Cincinnati Reds. The Reds shot him to Columbus, and it was from that city that the Naps grabbed him. Later he returned to the capital, and now Pittsburgh has torn him away from home ties that he did not wish to break.

Homer Mack, 2:00½, a Calgary horse, is giving turf scribes of Canada much to write about because of his speed shown at the ice meetings in Toronto. Two weeks ago Mack established a record for three heats by winning in 2:14½, 2:14½, and 2:14½, while the 1914 season's best time for the 112 heat of a race in 2:19½, which is one-quarter of a second slower than the world's best ice race record, which is held by Gratian Royal. Homer Mack is being driven by J. Stewart. Homer is by Pettigrew.

The athletic program in connection with the Panama-Pacific exposition already mapped out includes fifty events, which will require 138 days to complete. The athletic directors of the big San Francisco carnival have yet to arrange final dates for army and navy events, golf, roque, cricket, archery, bowling on the green, handball, and American style football. In all it is expected the athletic events will extend over a period of 200 days during the 1915 season and attract the best athletes of the world.

A new record in the number of students participating in athletics was set up at Harvard this year, when 1,024 students, according to the statistics given out at Cambridge, took part in some form of athletics. The 1914 figures show an increase of 187 participants over last year's figures. In the freshman class, approximately 8 per cent of the entire enrollment went in for the only two sports which showed a decline. Baseball and tennis drew about the same number of men as a year ago, and all the other sports practiced at Cambridge showed an amazing gain.

The opinion is rapidly gaining ground in baseball circles that the twenty-one player rule in major leagues never will be seriously enforced. This regulation would require an enrollment somewhat along the following lines: Pitchers, eight; catchers, four; infielders, five; outfielders, four. At the beginning of the 1914 season the American league club rosters contained the following number of players: Athletics, 27; Washington, 25; Cleveland, 26; Boston, 25; Chicago, 31; Detroit, 30; New York, 25; St. Louis, 29. The National league list was about the same.

The Phillies, after all, may not have such a bad club next season, provided Luderus' game leg recovers some of its snap during the winter. Moran will likely use Stock at short, his original position; Byrne at third; Whitely at second; and Luderus first. The outfield will be well taken care of by Backer, Paskert and Cravath, while Alexander, Moyer, Demaree, Hughes and Tincup make a pretty fair pitching staff.

James E. Gaffney, the affable owner of the world's champion Boston Braves, is beginning to reap the real profits of his team's wonderful achievements. The last world's series was far from a financial success to the team owner's involved. The players drew down the lion's share of the spoils for the four games played. But Stallings' success with a hopeless tailender made it possible for Gaffney to fortify against the future and justify an outlay of some $500,000 in building a modern home for his athletes.

Francis Quimet, the golf champion, has not been on the links for two months, and says he will not play until it is much warmer. He detests the winter months and cannot conceive of anyone playing the ancient game of the links when the hands get cold. The champion says he has earned a rest, and he feels that he will play all the better game next season for an absence from the links for a time.

Joe McGinnity, former iron man of the Giants, has been forced to sell stock in his Tacoma Northwestern league club in order to raise funds for the 1915 campaign. Joe suffered heavy financial losses last year. Jim Corbett subscribed for the first share of stock McGinnity sold.

According to President Gilmore, the club owners of the Federal league have paid out $5,000 in advance on salaries for major and minor league players for next season. Gilmore further declared that the protection of this money is one of the reasons the suit was instituted against the national commission.

Manager McGraw of the Giants has left for Cuba and will be away for about a month. While in Cuba the "Little Napoleon," who has finally succumbed to golf, will take his first lesson on the links from Captain Huston, who will accompany him on the trip.

Bill Bernhard once stated that a ball player is worth as much as he can get. The case of Bill's old "Roomie"—Larry Lajoie—would seem to prove Bill's statement. When the Frenchman left the Phillies to join the Athletics in 1901 he was getting $2,400. At that time Larry was in his prime. Fourteen years later the Frenchman returns to the Athletics. September 3, next, will mark his fortieth year on earth. He is still good, yes, great, but hardly the terror of old. Yet he is a $9,000 man. The Larry of 1901—a $2,400 man in those days—would bring $75,000 in the baseball market today. The Larry of 1915—a $9,000 man today—went to Connie Mack for nothing. OUR COUNTRY'S HISTORY IN A LING.

THE VOLUNTEER FIREMAN'S JUDGMENT IS CONFIRMED.

GLAD to do his friends the favor of telling them about the Real Tobacco Chew. That's the way it is with a "Right-Cut" user as soon as he uses up a pouch of it and learns how to get the real tobacco satisfaction.

A little chew of pure, rich, mellow tobacco—cut fine, short shred—seasoned and sweetened just enough, cuts out so much of the grinding and spitting.

Take a very small chew—less than one-quarter the size of ordinary tobacco. Just nibble on it until you find the strength chew that suits you. Tuck it away. Then let it rest. See how easily and evenly the real tobacco taste comes, how it satisfies without grinding, how much less you have to spit, how few chews you take to be tobacco satisfied. That's why it is The Real Tobacco Chew. That's why it costs less in the end.

It is a ready chew, cut fine and short shred so that you won't have to grind on it with your teeth. Grinding on ordinary candied tobacco makes you spit too much.

Notice how the salt brings out the rich tobacco taste in "Right-Cut". One small chew takes the place of two big chews of the old kind.

Americans that belligerents' war vessels should be withdrawn from waters near to the coasts of neutrals on the American continent is in complete harmony with the view of President Jefferson in a letter addressed to James Monroe, May 4, 1800, in which he says:

"We begin to brood the idea that we consider the whole gulf stream as our waters in which hostilities and cruelties should be frowned upon for the present, and prohibited so soon as either consent or force will permit us. We shall never permit another privateer to cruise within it and shall forbid our harbors to national cruisers."

"This is essential to our tranquility and commerce."

"The wonderful foresight of Jefferson is fully evidenced in his letter of August 16, 1807, to Robert Fulton, in which, speaking of torpedoes for use against war vessels, he says:

"But I have ever looked to the submarine boat as most to be depended on for attacking them, and though I see no mention of it in your letter or your publications, I am in hopes it is abandoned as impracticable. I should wish to see a class of young men trained to this service."

"One hundred and eighty years after Jefferson penned these lines as to submarines the entire world had the demonstration that he was right as to their efficiency with torpedoes."

SYSTEMATIC CHARITY.
For the first time in the history of the country the American people are organized for systematic philanthropy, and it is to be hoped that the generous spirit which prompted the work may continue to influence until the destitute people of Belgium are able to provide food for themselves. The latest report from the Belgian relief committee shows that 100,000 tons of wheat flour and foodstuffs have already been forwarded, while ships now chartered will carry 150,000 tons more, as soon as collected.

The number wholly destitute in Belgium is now placed at 1,400,000, and the cost of feeding this great army is $2,500,000 per month. Rev. J. F. Stillman, president of the relief committee, says in a recent report that it is not wise to attempt to colonize Belgians in America, because they will be needed at home to redeem their own country when peace is declared. In speaking of the importance of continued relief work, he says:

"There remain, and will remain, in Belgium seven millions of tragic inhabitants. In the country districts eighty per cent of them are women and children, who, as though hypnotized by disaster, haunt hopelessly the ruins in which they can scarcely recognize their homes."

"Many districts are nothing but graveyards. There is no seed to sow. There are no implements. There is no money. There is no credit. There is no means of transport. There is no work. And there is very little heart, save in a small corner of that once prosperous land, the corner still dominated and inspired by the courage of King Albert and his soldiers."

"No modern family was ever like this famine, because it is universal. The entire population has to be fed, and those whom charity does not reach will die."

"If I raise ever so little the curtain behind which is proceeding the ineffable, unparalleled, and hardly conceivable tragedy that in its completeness and its dread overtones all previous national tragedies, my aim is not merely to harp the feelings and excite the urgent pity of readers, but to assist them to realize the vastness of the task which now confronts the world's charity."

"Every home in Belgium wants help. A million and a half persons in Belgium live from day to day on the mercy of soup kitchens. Unless men, women and children are to die of starvation, over eighty thousand tons of food must be brought into Belgium every month, and even this will only give to each individual half the quantity of food that is given to a soldier. It will be the barest subsistence. Its cost will amount to about five million dollars a month."

"In spite of all the marvels of goodness which have already been achieved, and for which Belgians are inexhaustibly grateful, enormous help still is required."

"It cannot succeed unless an unending procession of great ships of food continues to cross the seas for months and months to come. The kind heart which leaps just once to a kind act and then forgets, will do less than its duty. The kind heart must trace itself to a long winter of constant, indefatigable endeavor. It must exist permanently in a state of active well-doing; or failure will result."

War news is just as contradictory at present as it was five months ago. All the public apparently are expected to know is that fighting is still going on on both the east and western battle lines. After the war is all over perhaps some historian will be able to explain some of these battles and give an accurate account of what has actually happened."

Mexico again makes a bid for the top of column next to reading matter by its latest revolution and the election of a new president. As it is the news is secondary to even local matter by this time and if they want real first place prominence they can only obtain it by declaring peace and disbanding the various factional armies.

The legislature is now ready to settle down to the long winter's grind in grim earnest. There is plenty of work to be done and if they finish it all before adjournment they will have accomplished a feat that should be classed with the labors of Hercules.

Wheat has gone up in price to a figure that is almost prohibitive to the consumer. Some predict a two dollar price, and after the rapid fluctuation of the past week anything can be expected.

DIRECTORS DISCUSS TWO FACTORY OFFERS

COMMERCIAL CLUB HAS PROSPECTS OF SECURING AT LEAST ONE NEW CONCERN.

PUSH LIGHTING PLAN

Complete Chart of Business Section Mapped Out for Ornamental Lights to Be Maintained by City.

Two factory propositions came before the Commercial Club directors at their regular weekly meeting yesterday. One from a cycle car and gas engine concern which has been in business something less than a year, capitalized at one and a half million, but which is somewhat vague in its proposition. They desire a factory building, rent free, for several years. Their proposition was referred to the owners of the old cement post factory, who, it is understood, are anxious to get in touch with a concern to the end that their property may be disposed of.

Another proposition from a manufacturing concern producing an auto tire, which is located at Akron, Ohio, was discussed. One of the men connected with this concern desired to come here and meet the business men. The tire concern also included rent of building free for a few months. The proposition looked to have considerable weight to it and the manufacturer, at the request of Secretary McDowell, is to be invited to come to Janesville.

The Bostonian on Court street, near the bridge, may be available for such an enterprise, and it is hoped that satisfactory arrangements can be completed.

Push Lighting Plan.

Edward Anierphol, chairman of the special lighting committee, made a report today to canvass the business section of the city regarding the ornamental street lighting idea. A complete chart of the business section has been laid out for ornamental lights and is in the hands of the electric company. Arrangements have been made with the mayor and commission to look after the maintenance of lights after installation, which is at the expense of the property owners and the city providing an expense of two-thirds for the former and one-third for the latter. It is hoped that with the excellent work of the Commercial Club and the friendly attitude of city commissioners that this much needed improvement may be realized at this time.

The annual meeting of the Commercial Club will be held Monday evening, February 1st, at which time election of officers will be held and President Parker will name a canvassing board to look after the nominations, which are to be made by mail. Each member of the Commercial Club will be supplied with a list of members to be voted upon. That is to say, a certain number of names will be checked by each member for selection and the twenty-five receiving the highest number of votes will be placed upon the ballot for selection, and the fifteen receiving the largest number of votes on February 1st at the annual meeting, will be the directors for the coming year. But ten of the present directors are eligible for return to the directory.

Membership Campaign.

Data is to be secured from the Madison Commercial Club ascertaining the steps that were taken there to secure a membership for their club of 1914. The Janesville Commercial Club membership should be increased, and with its increase of membership including all classes of people who have the welfare of the city at heart the breadth of the work can be greatly increased.

Tentative plans were gone over yesterday to some extent looking to the popularization of the Commercial Club and some manner of holding more frequent general meetings with the hope of arranging at the annual meeting so that each member may have a more distinct interest in the association.

It was decided to secure Thomas Witten of Trenton, Missouri, a man with a national wide reputation, to deliver an address on "Community Building." Mr. Witten's services have been secured through the efforts of J. A. Craig, who knows him personally and has heard him on a number of occasions. The appearance of a man of Mr. Witten's calibre would do much to instill a deeper interest in the civic welfare of the city.

The special committee in charge of the plans for the annual meeting will call upon the Commercial Club members in regard to the event and will explain some of the program.

MARGARET THORNE

TO WED NEBRASKAN

Daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. P. Thorne of This City, Meets Future Husband at Northwestern University.

Students on the campus of Northwestern university, Evanston, Illinois, solved a romance yesterday, when they learned that Miss Margaret Thorne, a sophomore in college, who was wearing an Alpha Delta Phi fraternity pin. Miss Thorne, who is a daughter of Dr. and Mrs. James P. Thorne, 530 So. Bluff street, in this city, appeared on the campus Monday for the first time wearing this pin. She was questioned by her friends and at once admitted her engagement to B. K. Patton, a freshman at the University of Chicago, whose home is in Omaha, Nebraska. Miss Thorne met young Patton at a house party in this city in 1913.

The rumored engagement was found out by the fraternity friends of Patton. The news was rushed to her, who listened calmly, and said, "Yes, of course it is true, but please don't say much about it, for I've a long way to go in college before the big day."

Thorne entered Northwestern following her graduation from the Janesville high school in 1913. She is a member of the Sigma Alpha Delta sorority, and popular among the students.

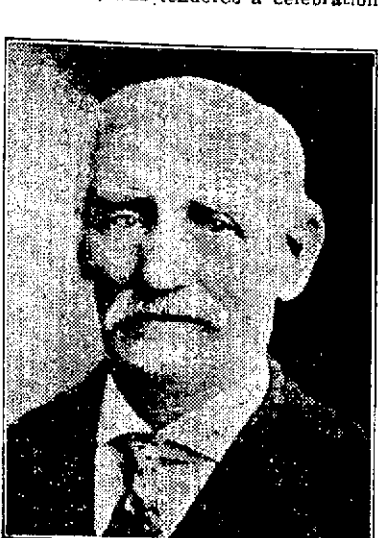

Patton is a nephew of Mrs. Geo. Fifield of this city.

Members of Principal J. T. Sheafar's Oral English class for boys at the Janesville high school, today commenced an extensive speaking contest, to be run much the same way as the one held last winter, when Frank Kennedy was chosen the best speaker. A separate vote taken by the faculty and students.

George Kalvelage and Willard Bennett were the two speakers to deliver their talks this morning during the opening exercises. Kalvelage spoke on "Detective Work As A Science," while Bennett discussed "The United States Army." Both talks were interesting to the students. The speaker, Kalvelage, given their number in the list, and the order in which the names appear on the list.

When the talks have all been given, the students will take a vote, and the faculty will also take a vote. Last year, both bodies agreed as to the winner. The list of addresses, and who they are to be given by in order is as follows:

TWO PLEAD GUILTY TO DRUNK CHARGES

Vagrant and Beloit Man in Court This Morning for Intoxication and Disorderly Conduct.

Thomas Reynolds, a floating laborer, whose name never got into a city directory, is only a "periodical" drinker. Reynolds admitted as much in court this morning when he was arraigned on the charge of being drunk and disorderly.

In questioning Reynolds Judge Maxwell had never before shown great ability in obtaining and keeping work, so the charge of vagrancy was added to the warrant. Reynolds pleaded guilty and received thirty days.

Carter Phillips of Beloit has a deathly fear of the Rock county jail. Phillips was the second inhabitant of the "spruce" and he pleaded guilty to being overpowered and "John Barleycorn" yesterday when a train crew "laid over" in Janesville for a late hour.

The court held ten days in jail and a ten dollar fine as adequate punishment to Phillips, whereupon he put up a plea to pay a fine and be saved from serving the jail term.

His plea melted the heart of the magistrate who ordered the fine to five dollars and costs when the Beloit man took the pledge for a year's time.

A change in the corrupt practices act is proposed in a bill by Helm to prohibit the distribution of letters, cards, lithographs and the like for four days previous to any primary or election. Assemblyman Newcomb Spoor, Berlin, introduced bills to extend the work of the session. One bill would limit the number of bills assemblymen may introduce to five, for senators ten, and each committee hearings would be held on resolutions for immediate action. A third compelling all members to give up the name of party, firm or corporation that asked the number to introduce a bill presented by request, and all other to eliminate duplicate bills presented by various members. The assembly adjourned until ten o'clock tomorrow.

Cousins residing in Pennsylvania have retained counsel and will be represented at the hearing.

MANROSS TEAM BARELY DEFEAT WILCOX OLLIE BALL PLAYERS, 21-20

On each side, played fast ball, and the match was a spectacular one, with neither team picked to win. The second game was also close, Chase's team defeating the team captained by Richards by a score of 21 to 19.

Wednesday afternoon Wilcox and Chase will oppose each other, and Richards and Manross will meet.

M. W. of A.: All members of Florence Camp are requested to meet at west side I. O. O. F. hall Wednesday night at one o'clock sharp, to attend the funeral services of our late neighbor, Wallace Cochran, A. M. Church, consul.

To introduce Bills.

The attendance in the assembly this week was much better than the attendance in the senate, owing to the fact that the senate made its committee assignments last week.

Completed its whole organization ready for business. This week will be consumed with the introduction of bills, and the committee on the revision and their subsequent report to the committee that will hold hearings upon the measure. It was announced today that some committee hearings would be held the week of January 23 on the bills of lesser importance, but on the following week the more heavy pieces of legislation will be taken up.

No many requests have been filed with the reference department by members of the legislature asking for the preparation of bills that the introduction has been compelled to work over time to keep up with the pace.

The indications are that there will be as many bills introduced at this session as at any previous session of the legislature.

Assemblyman Newcomb Spoor will attempt to put the ban on the introduction of so many bills. He said today that he would immediately present a resolution limiting the number of bills that may be introduced by an assemblyman to five, by a senator to ten and by a committee to ten. Another resolution by him provides for immediate hearings on departmental bills relating to finance and education law.

HOFFMAN HELD FOR PASSING BAD CHECK

Will Hold Court Examination on Thursday Morning to Present Evidence Against Him.

Charged with uttering a forged check, James O. Hoffman was arraigned before Judge H. L. Maxfield in the municipal court this morning.

Hoffman was captured in the city jail since yesterday afternoon and this morning the warrant was issued on the complaint of J. F. Newman whose thirty dollar check passed at the Taylor grocery store.

Attorney Gardner Kalvelage appeared in court for Hoffman and demanded a preliminary examination to determine if there was sufficient evidence to hold the alleged forger for trial. The case was set on the docket for Thursday morning, January 21st, at ten o'clock. Being unable to furnish the one thousand dollar bail demanded by the court, Hoffman was committed to the county jail to await his examination.

The charge of obtaining money under false pretenses was not made against Hoffman, the authorities feeling the complaint of passing the forged check covers enough.

It is claimed Hoffman obtained the signature of Newman in checks that had been issued by Newman to him in payment for insurance. The employee of the Merchants' and Savings bank notified the signature of the check passed on Taylor and communicated with Newman, who denied having signed such a paper.

The check passed at the Bugas saloon is still in the hands of the police. This check was made out by Hoffman to himself on the First National bank making the alleged offense if it is prosecuted, obtaining money under false pretenses.

AFTER SICKNESS A SPLENDID TONIC

All Run-down After a Hard Spell of Bronchitis. Mrs. Horbough Regained Strength by Taking Vinol.

Waynesboro, Pa.—"My system was
all run down after a hard spell of bronchitis. It was hard for me to keep about. I had pains in my chest and took cold easily. I learned of Vinol from a friend and tried it. I soon felt better and now it has built me up and I am strong and well, and able to do my house work, which I had not been able to do for about three months before taking Vinol.

"You may publish this statement so others may know about Vinol and get help as I did."—Mrs. Y. R. Horbough Waynesboro, Pa.

Thousands of other intelligent people are constantly praising Vinol for restoring health and strength.
Vinol is not a secret nostrum, but a delicious cod liver and iron tonic without oil, which will create an appetite, tone up the digestive organs, make pure blood and create strength.

If you are run-down and not as strong and energetic as you ought to be, try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that we will pay back your money if it fails to help you.

Dr. Osler on Tuberculosis
Dr. William Osler, one of the foremost of living medical men, formerly of Johns Hopkins, Baltimore, and now Regius Professor of Medicine at Oxford, says in his "Practice of Medicine": "The healing of pulmonary tuberculosis is shown clinically by the recovery of patients in a trial, unless the disease and bacilli have been found. In the granulations of the lungs and nodules, while the scar tissue is formed, while the smaller cavernous areas become im-mured in the scar tissue. To such conditions alone should the term healing be applied."

THE MASTER KEY

By John Fleming Wilson

BY SPECIAL ARRANGEMENT FOR THIS PAPER, MADE WITH THE UNIVERSAL FILM MANUFACTURING CO.
(Copyright, 1914, by John Fleming Wilson.)

"The mine? Why, ain't John told ye? The boys are already workin' on that new lead. Everything is fine. Ye don't suppose old Tom Kane would have left if everything hadn't been all right?"

She impulsively threw her arms
about his neck and hugged him.
"You are the best old dear that ever was, and I have a thousand things to tell you."

"How did you get up here?" asked
John curiously.

Kane laughed and looked at his rusty hands. "They told me Ruth was in her room, and when I got there I found the door open and the window open, and when I looked out I saw her climbing and heard her calling. So I just sauntered up myself."

"Well," said John, "as Ruth says she has a thousand things to tell you, and meanwhile we'd better be finding out just what that thief did got."

Half an hour later Ruth looked up at them with tears in her eyes.

"The papers are truly gone," she said quietly.

"Well, they shan't do anybody else
any good," John said comfortingly.
"and now that we have the thief I expect to dig out of him what he did with them. Don't worry!"

They said good night and left her quite cheered up.

When her door was closed John said briefly, "Come into my room, Tom."

Once inside, he turned on the old cook and asked briefly, "What brought you here, Tom? What's the matter at the mine?"

Kane threw out his hands in a despairing gesture.

"All hands is the matter, John," he said bluntly. "If we don't work fast Wilkerson will have ruined our little girl in there. There won't be any 'Master Key' any more!"

He choked back a sob. John Dorr stared at the window, at the lights of the city below him and shook his fist.
"Wilkerson is somewhere down there doing his dirty work. I'll get him yet."

"Meanwhile he's got the mine in his own man's hands," the cook went on.
"He left Bill Tubbs in charge and Bill!"—Kane choked over the words—
"that drunken bound fired me—fired
me, Tom Kane!"

The old man's wrath, humiliation, chagrin and sorrow were not ridiculous in John's eyes. None knew better than he the worth and faithfulness of the old man. He held out his hand and shook the cook's fiercely.

"By heavens, we'll have the 'Master
Key' back again, and it'll be Tom Kane
in the cook's shanty!"

An hour later, with the details that Tom had given him arranged in his mind, John threw himself into bed to toss the night through.

CHAPTER XV. The New Plot.

THE morning brought John Dorr, Ruth Gallen and Thomas Kane together to discuss the problems before them.
The papers so necessary for the consummation of the deal that Everett had proposed were again lost. Where they were gone, whether they had indeed fallen into Wilkerson's hands, nobody could tell. But more immediate yet was the need of extricating John.
Two plain clothes men already sat near by, ready to take him to prison on a charge of killing Henry Pell.

"It's really only a formality," said
the manager of the hotel. "The man was a robber and Mr. Dorr tried to capture him, as he had every right to do, and the man was killed."

This failed to comfort Ruth. To her mind the presence of the barly officers,
the fact that John Dorr was under arrest in a strange city, made her feel that her burdens were too great to bear. She sat holding the old cook's hand till Everett should come. He had already telephoned, and she tried to be brave till he should come.

Everett arrived, and the moment she saw him she heaved a sigh of relief.
He was so capable looking, so cool, so gentle and cordial to John that even Tom Kane softened his grim visage a little.

"I'm under arrest," John told him.
"The officers were good enough to let me stay here till you came. Now I must be off. Let me introduce you all around."

This done, John Dorr went on. "They can tell you all about things, and when you've learned the worst come down and get me out, if you can."

Everett agreed, and Dorr rose, and with a smile said goodbye to his companions. As he left the hotel with an officer on either side of him Ruth broke down and cried. Tom Kane comforted her as best he could till Everett suggested that they had best go to some more private place and discuss matters.

In Ruth's room she and the cook explained affairs briefly, Everett following their narrative carefully up to the incidents of the night before. When Ruth had finished and the cook was silent Everett thought a moment, then he laughed.

"I don't mean to make fun of all this," he apologized, "but I've known John Dorr for years and this is precisely the kind of trouble he revels in."

"But he's in jail!" Ruth protested tearfully.

"True enough," was the reply. "That is the first thing I must do, get him out. I'll be off now and see the district attorney and bail him out."

"Please hurry!" Ruth pleaded.

"Don't worry," was the cheerful response. A moment later he was gone, promising to bring John back with him.

"What do you think of Mr. Everett?"
Ruth demanded of Tom Kane.

The old man lit his pipe and scribbled the ceiling. "Well," he said judicially, "considering the looks of them on Wilkerson's side and them on John's side, I should think that this Everett was on the right side."

With this judgment she had to be content. But she insisted that he tell her all about the conditions at the "Master Key" mine. "I know you have not told me all the truth," she said.

"Well," he answered, her, "there's not much to tell one way and a heap in another. The mine's practically shut down. You know first you went away, then John and then Wilkerson.
Pretty much all was left was me and Bill Tubbs. Bill, he kind of represented Wilkerson, and I stuck up for John.

Wilkerson read no further. He turned his ghastly face on Mrs. Darnell and said huskily, "He's dead!"

"Well, he won't tell any tales," was the cold response. "The question is,
did he get the papers?"

To this question there was no satisfactory answer until Wilkerson read down further and learned that nothing of value had been found on Pell's body.

"So he didn't get the deeds, and Ruth still has them," Mrs. Darnell said bitterly. "That is the way all your plans succeed."

Wilkerson flushed. "There is one comfort," he said in an ugly tone.
"Dorr is to be held for killing him."

"For how long?" sneered Jenn. "Until his friends get him out. And meanwhile you do nothing!"

She continued in this strain for some time, Drake and Wilkerson moodily listening. They knew that if she once threw the affair up they would be helpless and all their time and work and money would have gone for naught.
Wilkerson was thinking quickly. Suddenly he interrupted Jenn to ask for pen and ink. She got them, and he sat down at the table to write. Drake and Mrs. Darnell kept up a desultory conversation until he had finished.

There was a queer look in Jenn's eyes as she took the sheet he handed her and glanced at the writing. "I see you still can do it," she murmured.

"Read it!" he growled.

Mrs. Darnell read it through silently
and then aloud:

Dear Ruth—I hate to ask you to come down and see me in the jail, but I have something very important to tell you.
Bring the papers too. JOHN DORR.

"Are you sure he is in jail?" demanded the woman when she had finished.
"And what is the idea of getting the papers into his hands?"

"He'll just turn them over to Everett," muttered Drake.

Wilkerson smiled slyly. "The idea is that Drake here will disguise himself as a chauffeur, take this note to the hotel, see that it reaches Ruth and then drive her supposedly to the jail,
but really to where I'll meet him."

They discussed the plan and at last agreed that it was feasible. Drake himself saw nothing dangerous in it so long as Wilkerson was to meet him and take Ruth off his hands. He promptly proceeded to dress himself as a chauffeur and went whistling away to a garage after receiving explicit instructions as to what streets

"Please hurry!" Ruth pleaded.

The result was that things went to the bad, and the boys they came to me and want to know how long they've got to my off.

"I suppose ye mean how long before a pay day," I says to 'em. 'So far as I know nobody has laid you off.'

"They agreed with me, but said they couldn't feed their folks without money, and if they got no money for it why work?"

"They haven't been paid, then?"

"No. And Wilkerson cut off all credit at the store. I guess I got in bad with Tubbs when I divided up a lot of flour and spuds that was in the cook shanty among the worst of ones.
There was some ugly talk, and before
I could kind of settle the boys' minds they treated Bill pretty roughly. So I just told myself that I would come to San Francisco and explain things—how Wilkerson deserted the camp and the mine was closed down and your people were starving."

"Oh!" mourned Ruth, ghastr at the hint story. "And I seem to have been unfortunate all around, but I know that John will fix things."

Tom Kane fixed his honest old eyes on the girl and shook his head. "I don't want to discourage you, Ruthie," he said quietly, "but until that man

Wilkerson is out of the mint for good you can't do more than patch matters up temporarily."
Meanwhile Wilkerson and Jenn Darnell were anxiously awaiting news from Henry Pell. It was getting along in the forenoon, and the woman insisted that if he had succeeded in getting the papers he should have been on the ground long before. Her companhe was to take and where he was to meet Wilkerson.

It was an hour later that Drake drove his rented car up before the hotel and delivered his note. It found Ruth still deep in conversation with Tom Kane and yet anxious for the return to Dorr and Everett. On the presentation of the note which Wilkerson had forged she instantly took alarm.

"John must be in trouble and Mr.
Everett can't get him out," she said.
"He's written for me to come down to the jail and see him and bring the papers."

"Humph!" said Kane. "That sounds
funny to me."

Ruth nodded, looking at the note.
Then she said, more cheerfully: "I'll dress anyway. Maybe he needs me.
Now, you old dear, leave me awhile."

Kane departed, and Ruth quickly changed into street dress. While she was doing this the bellboy returned to say that a machine was waiting for her.

"The one that brought the note," he said. "He says he was told to wait."

"Oh!" she exclaimed. "Tell him I'll be right down."

When the boy had gone she called Tom Kane on the telephone and told him that she was going. "John sent a car for me," she added.

"All right," came back the answer.
"I'll just travel along. Maybe I might help John myself."

So it was agreed, and they met in the lobby, where Ruth showed the note to the clerk in her impulsive way.
Something in that official's expression made the old cook unobtrusively take out his revolver and see that it was in good condition. He followed Ruth to the street and into the waiting machine.

Afternoon on River Stretch Near Monterey Rock.

Local horsemen are arranging for a series of mid-winter racing events on the ice and slush track that a half mile stretch has been scraped and placed in shape on the river near the "big rock" at Monterey for the first matinee on Thursday afternoon at two o'clock. E. J. Huelke has interested himself in starting the sport this season and expects to have a good field of starters lined up. Several drivers have been exercising their steeds on the course and pronounce it in excellent condition.

Orfordville News

Orfordville, Jan. 18.—Speaking of the slippery condition of the going, no one can put one over on Orfordville. A local blacksmith asserts that he was compelled to put sharp shoes on his horses on Sunday morning before he could lead them out to the well to drink. Next.

Rev. W. S. Carr was a passenger to the county seat on Monday morning. A few went to Beloit on Sunday to witness the ski sliding. Had it not been for the thaw Orfordville would have been well represented.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Tomlin spent Sunday with relatives in Evansville.

O. T. Burtness of Hanover was in the village for a short time on Monday.

The business houses of the village were closed for a short time on Monday afternoon during the funeral of the late M. O. Rime.

R. H. Skinner, Nels Benson, O. K. Osgood and Earl B. Hawke of Beloit attended the Rime funeral Monday.

B. J. Taylor made his regular weekly shipment of live stock on Monday. The difficulty caused by the quarantine seems to have been overcome.

MAGNOLIA CENTER

Magnolia Center, Jan. 18.—A large crowd attended the banquet given to Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Drew Thursday evening at the Drew home.

R. G. Setzer was a Janesville visitor Saturday.

Mrs. Henry Harnack is much better at this writing.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Reese were Evansville visitors Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Jones announce the arrival of a daughter at their home Saturday evening. Both mother and child are doing nicely.

Mr. Harnack and daughter, Hattie, were Evansville shoppers Saturday.

Several in this vicinity have the chicken-pox.

Last Thursday evening, Jan. 14, a reception was held at the home of Mrs. Mary Drew of Magnolia in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew A. Drew, at which about a hundred and twenty-five relatives and friends gathered to make merry. Shortly after the arrival of the guests a bounteous supper was served, during which Huelke's orchestra rendered several fine selections. Then the tables were quickly cleared and cards and dancing were indulged in until the wee small hours, when the merry-makers reluctantly took their departure leaving behind mementos of their visit, many beautiful and useful gifts. Among the out-of-town guests were the following: T. A. Ryan and family, Mrs. Harry Townsend, Janesville; Mr. and Mrs. Dan Flinnane, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Gary, Evansville; Louise, Alice and Arthur Carron, Beloit; Miss Nellie Gorey, Chicago; Mrs. Anna Becker, Milwaukee; and Dumphy brothers of Albany.

After the first of March the young couple will move to the Drew place, just north of the old home.

"THE CANDY SHOP"
PLEASES BIG AUDIENCE.

Pretty Chorus, Capable Principals, Catchy Music Furnish Musical Comedy Fans With the Best Show They've Had This Year.

That the huge audience which witnessed "The Candy Shop" last evening at Myers Theatre were pleased goes without saying. "The Candy Shop" is served in the nature of a musical comedy and was so far ahead of anything in that line which has appeared here yet this season that it deserves to mention here.

The plot of the piece is so light that it deserves to mention here.

Leading principals of the company was Wm. Rock in the part of Gilbert Grand, a candy shop clerk, who has a desire to go into vaudeville and whose droll humor kept his auditors delighted. He handled his part excellently. Miss Marjorie Fulton was charming in her quaint way. Appearing as Sally, a tailor's daughter, with a consuming desire to go on the stage, she handled a difficult part with ease. Her expressions in mimicry were unusually good, while her songs received several encores. Miss Daphne Polard, one of the Alhambra Sisters, was the liveliest little bunch of femininity imaginable. She took the house by storm. In a series of unique clever dances and songs she was ably assisted by her partner, Miss Bessie Bader. The balance of the company handled their parts in a decidedly able manner. The chorus was pretty, could sing well and dance well and were beautifully costumed. In the second act some wonderfully clever specialties were introduced.

Ghost Dance by Wm. Rock and Maud Fulton was one of the most novel dances ever staged and while not a part of the plot was still a welcome departure. The Cabaret in the last scene was a most pleasing affair. Maude Fulton's imitation of Sarah Bernhardt was a marvelous piece of character delineation. This was ably seconded by Wm. Rock as the excitable French partner of the divine Sarah.

After all, one goes to a musical comedy to laugh and be entertained and in this respect "The Candy Shop" did not disappoint.

"THE MAN FROM HOME" DELIGHTS

Paramount Release Yesterday Was a Picturization of Well Known Play.

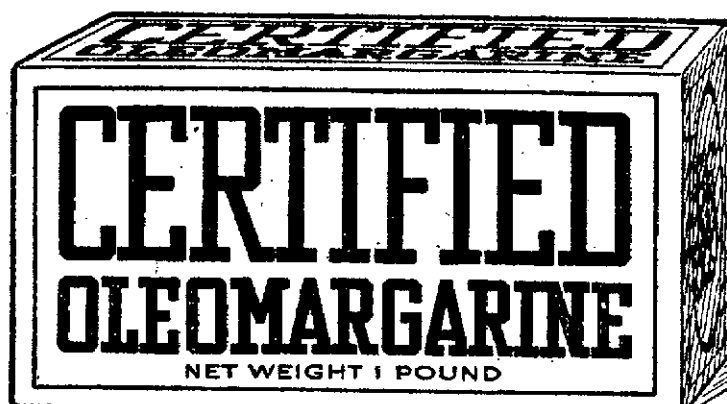

One of the most enjoyable of pictures was the Paramount photoplay seen at the Apollo yesterday. Those who had witnessed the original stage production especially appreciated it. All the Yankee humor of the original was added to the beautiful, natural settings and scenes possible only with motion pictures. The play was shown in five reels and was fully up to the Lasky standard of photography. Like the most of the Paramount pictures it was generously applauded.

FORTY YEARS AGO. The Janesville Daily Gazette, Jan. 12, 1875—Twenty-one degrees below zero this morning.

The opera house is in a comfortable condition. Don't stay away for fear of being too cold.

The exhibition of poultry, birds and domestic pets, at 32 and 34 East Milwaukee street, opposite the Myers theatre is one of the largest collections ever exhibited in the west.

The ladies and children should not fail to see this large collection of birds and pets.

Miss Fannie Russell wishes to return her thanks to those citizens who were at Madison last week and helped her secure her position in the present legislature.

The band concert boys should hear up the opera house themselves. If they leave it to Mr. Myers he will freeze them out and the audience, too.

L. O. Humphrey of Abion, Dane County, was in our office today and informs us that he has a pork barrel which has been in constant use for the past sixty-one years. It was made in Rensselaer county, New York in 1814 and what is very remarkable it has been reemphed but one time since being made. It is still now in a perfectly safe and sound condition. Mr. Humphrey has also an old fashioned clock. Which has been in use for sixty-two years and still keeps the best of time. Now you farmers bring out your pork barrels.

List of Names in the Home Helpers Bureau. The revised list of names received through the Home Helpers' Bureau is given below and others who wish their names entered should send names, address and telephone number in care of the Home Helpers' Bureau, Gazette. The bureau has been established for both the housekeeper who is in need of aid, and those who are seeking employment.

During the holiday season there is certain to be a demand for employment and it would be well for people who wish to employ the services of a man or woman to give the list a careful consideration.
